

On conducting career guidance work

On April 19, 2024, the second round of the annual biology Olympiad among graduates of schools and colleges in Astana was held within the walls of the Faculty of Agronomy, organized by the staff of the Faculty of Biology, Plant Protection and Quarantine. Before the opening of the second round, the teachers of the department spoke to the participants, where they briefly outlined the features of the specialties "Biology", "Phytosanitary safety" for bachelors and other specialties of the biological profile. Booklets were distributed to the participants.

According to the Olympiad program, between the announcement of the results and the awarding of the winners of the Olympiad, the staff of the department organized excursions to the scientific center "Scientific and production platform of agricultural Biotechnologies" led by Professor Kukhar E.N., to the "Experimental Production Laboratory "Biotechnology of Microorganisms" led by Professor Nauanova A.P., to the soil Museum of the department "Soil Science and Agrochemistry".

